[JANUARY, MDCCLXXII.] THE [NUMB. 321.]

SOUTH-CAROLINA AND COUNTRY GAZETTE; JOURNAL.

Containing the freſheſt Advices, both Foreign and Domeſtic.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1772.

To the PRINTER.

Should you, at any Time, when more important Articles are ſcarce, give the two following little Stories a Place in your Paper, you might thereby, poſſibly, pleaſe ſome, and, perhaps, convey Inſtruction to others. Your's, &c. A. B.

The Inconveniency that a Perſon may bring himſelf into by telling even but a ſingle Lie; and the Advantage which may ariſe from telling the Truth, even where a Lie ſeems almoſt neceſſary, exemplified in two remarkable Inſtances.

MR. Jeremy White, one of Oliver Cromwell's Domeſtic Chaplains, a ſprightly Man, and one of the chief Wits of the Court, was ſo ambitious as to make his Addreſſes to Oliver's youngeſt Daughter, the Lady Frances. The young Lady did not diſcourage him; but in ſo religious a Court, this Gallantry could not be carried on without being taken Notice of. The Protector was told of it, and was much concerned thereat: He ordered the Perſon who told him to keep a ſtrict Look-out, promiſing, if he could give him any ſubſtantial Proofs, he ſhould be well rewarded, and White ſeverely puniſhed. The Spy followed his Buſineſs ſo cloſe, that in a little Time he dogged Jerry White (as he was generally called) to the Lady's Chamber, and ran immediately to the Protector, to acquaint him that they were together. Oliver, in a Rage, haſtened to the Chamber; and going in haſtily, found Jerry on his Kneez, either kiſſing the Lady's Hand, or having juſt kiſſed it. Cromwell in a Fury aſked, what was the Meaning of that Poſture before his Daughter Frank? White, with a great deal of Preſence of Mind, ſaid, "May it pleaſe your Highneſs! I have a long Time courted that young Gentlewoman there, my Lady's Woman, and cannot prevail: I was therefore humbly praying her Ladyſhip to intercede for me." The Protector turning to the young Woman, cried, "What's the Meaning of this Huſſy? Why do you refuſe the Honour Mr. White would do you? He is my Friend, and I expect you ſhould treat him as ſuch." My Lady's Woman, who deſired nothing more, with a very low Courtſey, replied, "If Mr. White intends me that Honour, I ſhall not be againſt him." "Say'ſt thou ſo, my Laſs," cried Cromwell? "Call Godwyn; this Buſineſs ſhall be done preſently, before I go out of the Room." Mr. White was gone too far to go back; his Brother Parſon came; Jerry and my Lady's Woman were married in the Preſence of the Protector, who gave her Five Hundred Pounds for her Portion; which, with the Money ſhe had ſaved before, made Mr. White eaſy in his Circumſtances; but he was very unhappy, as he never loved his Wife, nor ſhe him, though they lived together near fifty Years afterwards.

TOGALTIMUR-CAN, King of Tartary, was one Day told, that there was in his Dominions a Man, who was ſo great an Enemy to Lying, that he always told Truth. The King had a Mind to have him near his Perſon, and made him Maſter of the Horſe. A Courtier of ſo extraordinary a Character ſoon found Enemies, who watched all Opportunities to ruin him: But the King, who was not a Prince eaſy to be impoſed on, made Trial of his Maſter of the Horſe on ſeveral Occaſions, and having always found him frank and ſincere, gave him the Surname of Saddyq (Teller of Truth.)

Of all Saddyq's Enemies, the Viſier Tangribirdi was the moſt inveterately bent on his Ruin: But not being able to compaſs his Deſign, he diſcloſed one Day to his Daughter Hoſchendan, the Uneaſineſs it gave him to be ſtill diſappointed. Hoſchendan, who equalled her Father in Malice, ſaid to him, "My dear Father, ceaſe to afflict yourſelf: If you are abſolutely determined to bring Saddyq into the King's Diſavour, leave the Care of it to my Management, and I promiſe you I will bring him to a Neceſſity of telling a Lie to the King." "Do whatever you will Daughter," ſaid the Viſier, tranſported by his Hatred to Saddyq.

Hoſchendan cloathed herſelf in her richeſt Apparel, adorned herſelf with all her Jewels, dy'd her Eye-Brows with Veſme, and her Eye-Laſhes with Surme: Neither did ſhe omit to rub her Hands with Cna. In ſhort, after having added to her natural Beauty all the Advantages that Art could give her, ſhe went from her Father's one Night to the Maſter of the Horſe's Houſe. When ſhe was come thither, ſhe told the Servants that ſhe deſired to ſpeak with Saddyq about an Affair of very great Importance. They conducted her into the Maſter of the Horſe's Apartment. She found him ſitting on a Sofa, ſaluted him, threw off the Veil that covered her Face, and ſat down on the ſame Sofa, without ſaying one ſingle Word.

Saddyq, who had never ſeen ſo beautiful a Perſon, became motionleſs with Surprize. The Lady, who came thither only to inſpire him with Love, ſpared not the Means to compaſs her Deſign. She careſſed him with a thouſand Dalliances: When ſhe was perſuaded that his Paſſion was become violent, and that he would be the fond Fool to riſque any Thing to obtain Satisfaction of his Deſires, ſhe broke Silence in theſe Words: "O, Saddyq, be not ſurprized that a Lady, who loves you, is come in the Night to ſee you: I will be kind; but firſt you muſt grant me one Favour." "Soul of my Soul," cried the Maſter of the Horſe, "you need only name it." "I have a Mind," replied Hoſchendan, "to make a little Entertainment with you: I die with longing to eat ſome Horſe-Fleſh: You muſt kill me immediately the fatteſt of all the Horſes in the King's Stable; we will take out the Heart and the Liver, get them roaſted, and eat them together." "Charming Lady," anſwered Saddyq, "rather aſk me my Life, and I will give it you: Let us delay this Entertainment till To-morrow; I will then buy a Horſe as fat as a Bacon-Hog, and we will regale ourſelves like Princes." "No, No," replied Hoſchendan, "I muſt eat of one of the King's Horſes: It is a Fancy I have." "I love the King my Maſter (ſaid he) too well to give him Uneaſineſs; and ſhould I yield to your Requeſt, I am certain he will not fail to puniſh me." "You need not fear that," ſaid Hoſchendan, "if the King ſhould aſk for that Horſe, you need only tell him, that having found him Sick, and paſt all Hopes of Recovery, you thought it beſt to kill him, leſt he ſhould have infected the other Horſes. The King, who by Way of Excellence has given you the Surname of Saddyq, will take your Word for it, and even commend your Precaution."

Theſe words made Saddyq begin to waver. Hoſchendan, perceiving the Uncertainty he was in, renewed her Attack, and careſſed him in ſo moving a Manner, that he condeſcended at length to her Requeſt. They went both of them to the King's Stables. Then Hoſchendan ſaid to Saddyq, "O my Prince! ſince you have granted me this Favour, let me have it entire; pray cut the Throat of this black Horſe, which is here apart from the reſt." "O my Sultaneſs!" cried out the Maſter of the Horſe, "you put my Love to too great a Trial. This black Horſe is of all others that which the King loves beſt. It is impoſſible for me to comply with your Deſire." But the Lady, throwing her Arms about his Neck, ſaid, "O my King! whatever Women ardently deſire, they are obſtinate to obtain; comply, therefore, and ſatisfy my Humour, I will for ever love you in Return for this Favour."

Theſe Words were attended with ſo many Marks of Tenderneſs, and with ſuch Tranſports, that the Maſter of the Horſe could reſiſt no longer. He feaſted in the Bed-chamber with Hoſchendan, who continued with him all the Night. When it was Day, the Lady returned Home to her Father, and told him all that had paſſed. The Viſier went directly to the Palace, and told the King this Adventure; yet he took Care not to ſay that Hoſchendan was the Lady in Queſtion.

While he was making his malicious Recital to the King, the Maſter of the Horſe was come to himſelf, and made moſt bitter Reflections on the ſweet Enjoyments of the Night. "How void of Senſe are Men," ſaid he, "to give themſelves up with ſo much Fury to their Paſſions!" What ſhall I ſay to the King, when he aſks me for his Horſe? Let me ſuppoſe that I am at Court (continued he, laying his Cap upon the Floor) and my Cap to be Togaltimur: Entering into his Preſence, I ſalute him. "Saddyq," ſays he to me, "let my black Horſe be got ready, I mean to ride him To-day." "Sir, an Accident has befallen him: Yeſterday in the Evening he would eat nothing, and he died at Midnight; nor can I imagine what has killed him."---"How! my black Horſe, that carried me ſo well but Yeſterday, is he dead? Be gone; thou art a Liar: Thou haſt either ſold my Horſe, or killed him.---One of you ſtab that Villain to the Heart this Moment; cut him to Pieces."

"Now let me ſee, if, by telling Truth, I ſhall be better uſed." "Saddyq, let my black Horſe be got ready: I will ride Abroad." "O King! you ſee your Servant in the deepeſt Affliction. There came to my Houſe laſt Night a Lady, who aſked me to have the Heart and Liver of that Horſe, and I had not the Power to refuſe her." What! could you kill my fine Horſe to gain a Lady's Favour? One of you go for the Hangman; he ſhall do his Office before me."

"Thus, whether I lie or tell Truth, I am ſure to loſe my Life. Wretch that I am! Curſed be the Object whoſe Charms have thrown me into this Perplexity."---While he was taken up with theſe diſmal Thoughts, the King ſent for him. He inſtantly went to that Prince, with whom he found the Viſier his Enemy.

"Maſter of the Horſe," ſays the King, "I intend to divert myſelf To-day with Hunting: Go ſaddle my fine black Horſe." He anſwered in great Confuſion. "Laſt Night, as I was ſitting in my Chamber, there came to me [illegible] herſelf down by me on a Sofa, unveiled herſelf, and ſhewed me her Neck and Ears of a raviſhing Beauty: She careſſed me a Thouſand Times, and when ſhe perceived ſhe had inflamed my Deſires, ſhe promiſed to ſatisfy them, provided I would give her before-hand the Heart and Liver of your black Horſe. Though I ardently deſired to content the Longings of my Love, yet I refuſed. Then the Lady threw herſelf about my Neck, and beſought me in Terms ſo moving, that I had not Power to reſiſt her Importunity. I confeſs my Crime, and am ſo far from deſiring to eſcape the Puniſhment I deſerve, by telling a Lie, that I come of my own Accord to ſubmit to it. There, Sir, is the Sabre, and here my Head."

The King turned towards the Viſier, and aſked him in what Manner he thought it beſt to deal with Saddyq. "Sir (anſwered the Viſier) I am of Opinion, that he ought to be burnt in a ſlow Fire." "I am not of your Opinion, Viſier," replied Togaltimur. Then he addreſſed his Diſcourſe to the Maſter of the Horſe. "O Saddyq! I am aſtoniſhed at thy Sincerity, and excuſe thy Weakneſs. Had I been in thy Place, I ſhould not only have given my black Horſe, but rather than fail, all the Horſes in my Stables. The Allurements were too mighty to be reſiſted: Therefore I forgive thee the Death of my Horſe, and take it ſo well of thee, that thou haſt told me the Truth on this Occaſion, that I order a Robe of Honour to be brought for thee immediately."

When the Viſier Tangribirdi ſaw that the Maſter of the Horſe was rewarded, inſtead of being puniſhed; and that his Daughter had proſtituted herſelf to no Purpoſe, to ſatisfy the Hatred he had conceived againſt him, he was ſeized with a melancholy Illneſs, of which he died in a few Days, and the fortunate Saddyq was made Choice of to ſucceed him in his Poſt of Viſier.

PORTSMOUTH, (New-Hampſhire) DECEMBER 6.

LAST Thurſday Week Dr. Hall Jackſon couched the Right Eye of one Fletcher, of Winter-Harbour, about 39 Years of Age, who had been blind ever ſince he was ſix Months old: It was done with all the Succeſs that could be expected or deſired; no ſooner was the Inſtrument out of his Eye, than he was able clearly and diſtinctly to ſee many Perſons and Objects that ſurrounded him, in all of which he immediately perceived a Difference, but how or in what this Difference conſiſted, he could give no Account, as he had no Idea of Forms, Colours, Magnitude, Diſtance, or even a Plurality of Things, but what he had formed in his Mind, from the Senſes of hearing and feeling; which plainly demonſtrates, that were we deprived of the Uſe of our ſenſitory Organs, we could have no Idea of Things whatever.

All Objects and Colours ſeemed equally agreeable to this Perſon, except red and green, the former of which he could not look upon with any Degree of Satisfaction, but with the latter he appeared to be much pleaſed. The Joy expreſſed by this Perſon in being reſtored to ſo valuable a Senſe, did by no Means appear ſo great as in thoſe that have been before ſenſible of the Enjoyment of it.

About ten Days ago a Negro Man, belonging to Mr. Nathan Meſerve of Durham, who had been blind for ſeveral Years, had both his Eyes couched by Dr. Hall Jackſon, and perfectly reſtored to Sight.

BOSTON, DECEMBER 21.

At a Council held at the Council Chamber in Boſton, Tueſday, December 10th, 1771.

HIS Excellency having acquainted the Board at their laſt Meeting, that Joſeph Greenleaf, Eſq; a Juſtice of the Peace for the County of Plymouth, was generally reputed to be concerned with Iſaiah Thomas, in printing and publiſhing a News-Paper, called the Maſſachuſets Spy, and the ſaid Joſeph Greenleaf having thereupon been ſummoned to attend the Board on this Day, in order to his Examination touching the ſame, and not attending according to Summons, it was thereupon ADVISED, that the ſaid Joſeph Greenleaf be diſmiſſed from the Office of a Juſtice of Peace, which Advice was approved of and conſented to, by his Excellency; and the ſaid Joſeph Greenleaf is diſmiſſed from ſaid Office accordingly.

A true Copy from the Minutes of Council,

THOMAS FLUCKER, Secr'y.

We hear that at a Council held at the Council Chamber on Tueſday laſt, Joſeph Greenleaf, Eſq; was deprived of his Office of Juſtice of the Peace, without ſo much as being notified of any Crime being laid to his Charge, or called upon to make a legal Defence. O MONSTRUM HORRENDUM! We wonder whether this may be called an undue Exerciſe of Power? or not. Whether it is Uſurpation or TYRANNY.

We can with Pleaſure aſſure the Public, that ſeveral Gentlemen in the Country have lately entered upon the Culture of that valuable Root called MADDER. It is a conſiderable Article of Importation from London, great Quantities of it are wanted for dying. It is ſaid that it is alſo uſed in Medicines. It is three Years from planting this Root before it is fit to dig, but large Compenſation is made by the valuable Crop, which upon a moderate Computation, one Acre only, is worth One Hundred Pounds Sterling. The Method of Cultivation we ſhall collect and lay before the Public as ſoon as poſſible. Every Stone ſhould be turned now, and every Art inveſtigated, that will help to forward our INDEPENDENCE upon that State that makes Uſe of every poſſible Means to oppreſs us. A few Additions to the Articles of Fiſh, Oil, Bone, Lumber, Pot-Aſh, Silk, and Madder, together with GOOD OECONOMY, will effect it in a few Years, if Providence continues to ſmile on us, and the Inhabitants increaſe in their uſual Proportion.

NEW-YORK, DECEMBER 29.

We hear from the Wall-Kill, in this Province, that the Rev. Mr. JOHN BLAIR, late Profeſſor of Divinity in the College of New-Jerſey, died there on the 9th Inſtant, in the 51ſt Year of his Age. He was a Gentleman of an excellent Underſtanding, which he had carefully improved; and was juſtly eſteemed a great Divine, a judicious and inſtructive Preacher, and an eminent Example of the various, divine and ſocial Virtues that conſtitute the Chriſtian Temper, and adorn the Chriſtian Character. His Death is greatly lamented by all Denominations in that County, eſpecially by the affectionate People to whom he miniſtered.

The Sloop Fanning, Captain John Heſmer, from North-Carolina, with a Cargo of that Country Produce, bound [illegible] but blown off, to the Eaſtward, was in ſight of Hampton's Neck, Thurſday the 5th Inſtant, driven on Sh[illegible], where the Veſſel was beat to Pieces, and Part of the Cargo damaged.

ALBANY, DECEMBER 9.

We are credibly informed, that his Excellency the Governor, has received Inſtructions from his Majeſty, to diſſolve the General Aſſembly of this Province at their next Meeting, if they will not admit the Honourable Judge Livingſton to ſit as a Member of the Houſe.

PHILADELPHIA, DECEMBER 30.

By a Gentleman from the Grenades we learn, that about the 10th of laſt Month General Leybourn arrived there, in the St. Albans Man of War from England, to take on him the Command of that Government: That on his Arrival his Commiſſion was publiſhed, as alſo his Majeſty's Inſtructions, allowing the Roman Catholic Inhabitants to be of the Council, and to ſit in the Aſſembly, which cauſed great Uneaſineſs to moſt of the Proteſtants at that Place; and that a Commiſſion was come, appointing Monſieur Chantaloup to be one of his Majeſty's Council for that Government.

Captain Ruſſel from the Grenades, the 12th Inſtant, in 20 fathom Water, between Capes Look Out and Hatteras, ſpoke a ſmall Schooner from Santee for Charles-Town, which had been blown off; ſeveral of the People were Froſt-bitten, and they were in Want of Water and Proviſions. Capt. Ruſſel ſupplied them with a ſmall Quantity of Water and Beef, but it coming on to blow, he could not give them all the Aſſiſtance he wiſhed.

JANUARY 2. On Monday next the General Aſſembly of this Province meets here.

This Day and To-morrow may be ſeen, at the London Coffee-Houſe, a Piece of Broadcloth, the Manufacture of this Province. As it is one of the fineſt and beſt, perhaps, ever made on the Continent, and as the Manufacturer has been at conſiderable Expence, in procuring an Engine, Looms, &c. he hopes the generous Public will encourage this infant Attempt. By this Specimen it will appear that ſuch Goods can be manufactured amongſt us, and may be of ſingular Advantage to this Country; whence he flatters himſelf, (if the Piece obtains their Approbation) that many Gentlemen will be found cheerfully to contribute to an Undertaking ſo highly intereſting to every Denomination; eſpecially when they will be aſſured, that all Contributions for this Purpoſe, ſhall be honeſtly employed in forging the Plan, as there are other Branches which may be conveniently added, if the Generoſity of thoſe, who may ſee and approve of what is ſubmitted to their candid Judgment, will enable him to perſevere.

NEWBERN, (North-Carolina) DECEMBER 27.

On Monday laſt the Aſſembly having gone through the Buſineſs of the Seſſion, the Houſe waited on his Excellency the Governor at the Palace, with what Bills they had ready, when his Excellency was pleaſed to give his Aſſent to Twenty-three Bills, among which were the following, viz. An Act to amend an Act, entituled, "An Act for founding, eſtabliſhing, and endowing of Queen's College, in Mecklenburg County." "An Act to indemnify ſuch Perſons as have acted in Defiance of Government, and for the Preſervation of the public Peace of this Province, during the late Inſurrection, from vexatious Suits and Proſecutions." "An Act for impoſing a Tax of Two Shillings Proclamation Money, per Poll on all taxable Perſons within this Province, for granting the Money ariſing from ſuch Tax to his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, to be applied as herein after directed." After which his Excellency was pleaſed to return his Thanks to his Majeſty's Council and the Houſe of Aſſembly for their great Alacrity and Diſpatch of public Buſineſs, and for the ample Proviſion they had made for the Payment of the Troops lately employed in the Service of the Province, to quell the unnatural Convulſions with which it has been lately torn; and then diſſolved the Aſſembly.

[illegible] having on board a Number of Paſſengers, among whom the SMALL-POX broke out during the Voyage; and in order to prevent the Contagion ſpreading in this Province, His EXCELLENCY the GOVERNOR has been pleaſed to ORDER the ſaid Ship to anchor in Rebellion-Road, and the Paſſengers to remain on board of her, or at the PEST-HOUSE on Sullivan's-Iſland, in order that the ſaid Ship and the Cloaths of the Paſſengers may be thoroughly purified, before ſhe or they be permitted to come to Charles-Town: I DO HEREBY GIVE PUBLIC NOTICE thereof, that ALL PERSONS may refrain from going on board the ſaid SHIP, or to the ſaid ISLAND, during the Time it ſhall be judged neceſſary for the ſaid Paſſengers and Ship's Crew to remain there. AND WHEREAS ſeveral Perſons have preſumed to go on board the ſaid Ship, and other Veſſels liable to perform Quarantine, and afterwards to come on ſhore, whereby dangerous and infectious Diſtempers are liable to be brought into this Province: THIS IS to forewarn all Perſons from ſo doing for the future; as Orders are given that the Laws againſt ſuch Offenders ſhall be ſtrictly carried into Execution.

By Order of his Excellency the Governor in Council,
January 18, 1772. JAMES SIMPSON.

CHARLES-TOWN, JANUARY 21.

THERE are Accounts from Georgia, which mention the Arrival there of the Ship Britannia, James Clendinnen, Maſter, from Belfaſt, with upwards of 250 Paſſengers on board, who have unhappily got the Small-Pox and Meaſles among them. His Honour James Habersham, Eſq; Commander in Chief of ſaid Province, has iſſued a Proclamation, directing the ſaid Ship to be moored in Tybee Creek, the Paſſengers and others to remain on board or to be put on Shore at the Lazaretto during her Quarantine, which is to continue till at leaſt forty Days after the laſt Perſon infected ſhall be recovered. His Honour has likewiſe given Directions for the moſt effectually preventing the Infection from ſpreading.

His Majeſty's Packet Boat the Sandwich, Capt. Nottingham, is arrived at Falmouth, from this Port.

Mr. John Dutarque and Family, and Miſs Bremar, went lately for Great-Britain.

Captain Crow from Briſtol, on the 31ſt Ult. in Lat. 25, 30, Long. 62, ſpoke the Sloop Betſey, Richard Nowlan, Maſter, bound from Georgia to Grenada.

The Unanimity, Fox, from Scarborough; and ---------, Linthorne, from Poole, are arrived at Georgia.

Yeſterday the Court of General Seſſions, &c. began to be held here.
